8 Dear Sir;
9

10 This Information Disclosure Statement ("IDS")
11 is submitted after the Office Action mailed on 12/15/2004
12 had been received by applicant.
13

14 Accompanying this letter is Form PTO-1449 identifying
15 certain "U.S. Patent Documents" that are respectively
16 References AA, AB, AC, AD, AE, AF, AG, AH, AI, AJ, AK, AL,
17 AM, and AN; and a "Foreign Patent Document" that is
18 Reference BA.
19

20 As a result of responding to the Office Action mailed
21 12/15/2004, it is necessary to forward to USPTO an entire 22 copy of US 6,357,485 B2 that is Reference AA in
23 Form PTO-1449. An entire copy of Reference AA
24 accompanies this document.
25

26 In addition, applicant became aware of additional
27 references as a result of the June 15, 2004 International
28 Search Report for International Application
29 No. PCT/US03/38615 that cites References AB, AC, AD, and
30 AE. Entire copies of References AB, AC, AD and AE
31 accompany this document.

IDS
Serial No. 10/729,509
Rig-2

1 PCT/US2003/038615 was published as WO 2004/053935 A2
2 on 6/24/2004, which claims priority from the instant case,
3 a copy of which accompanies this correspondence as
4 Reference BA.

5
6 Reference AB is not pertinent to applicant's
7 invention because heating is generated by using "magnetic
8 core 38" (column 6, lines 51-52) that generates an AC
9 magnetic field that heats by inductive heating. As 10 another example, the phrase "magnetically permeable
11 core 38" appears in column 6, lines 42-43. Also, please
12 see all the claims in Reference AB that recite similar
13 structures.

14
15 References BB, BC, and BD are general references in 16 the art, but are not relevant to applicant's invention or 17 to applicant's claims.

18
19 Further references in the field are presented in 20 References AF, AG, AH, AI, AJ, AK, AL, AM, and AN that are 21 defined in the accompanying PTO Form-1449. Entire copies
22 of these references accompany this correspondence. These
23 references do not describe applicant's invention nor do
24 they anticipate applicant's claims. As one example,
25 Reference AI describes electrical conductors 20
26 (in Fig. 1) that are presumably strapped externally to 27 "a length of conduit for conveying fluid to the surface
28 28." (column 3, lines 47-48). This is a much more complex
29 and cumbersome method to provide electrical conductors
30 downhole than taught by applicant's invention.

31
32 Applicant does not admit that any of such documents,
33 alone, or in any combination, is considered to be material

1 to patentability as defined in 37 CFR § 1.56. Moreover,
2 the inclusion of these documents is not to be construed as
3 an admission by applicant that each such document is prior
4 art as to the above-identified patent application.
5

6 However, applicant requests that each such reference
7 be published on the front page of any patent that issues
8 on this case. Thank you.
9

10
11 Payment of Fees
12

13 To the best knowledge of applicant, no fees are
14 required for this IDS. However, if any additional fees
15 are required related to this correspondence, or to any
16 other correspondence related to the instant application,
17 please charge applicant's Account No. 50-0499 that was
18 established on 3/20/98. Fees on patents and patent
19 applications entirely owned, or owned in part, by William
20 Banning Vail III may be made from this account. William
21 Banning Vail III is doing business as an inventor under 22 the name of "Vail's Inventions". Marilyn L. Vail, the 23 wife of William Banning Vail III, may also direct that 24 fees be paid from this Account No. 50-0499. If for 25 unforeseen reasons funds are not available in that
26 account, please let applicant know as soon as possible and
27 said deficiencies will be paid immediately. In the event
28 of overpayment of any fees herein, applicant respectfully
29 requests that any overpayment be deposited into Account
30 No. 50-0499.

Pro-Se Case

This application is filed pro-se. The applicant is using the book entitled "Patent It Yourself", Ninth Edition, by David Pressman, and if there are errors, please advise the inventor, and such errors will be corrected immediately.

Please address all correspondence involving this case to the inventor at the below defined address. Thank you.

Very respectfully submitted,

William Banning Vail III
